

SpeedAlloy Repairs Leaks in Minutes -- Saving Money, Down-Time & Inconvenience.

Insurance companies confirm that the likelihood of having a leak is about 30,000 times greater than the likelihood of having a fire. Yet...everybody readily admits that it is essential to have a fire extinguisher in their factory, office building and home, but generally overlook the need for a LEAK EXTINGUISHER.

The ENECON Distributor in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, had sold one of his clients on the importance of having SpeedAlloy on the shelf for leak repair emergencies. Just days after receiving their SpeedAlloy, serious leaks developed in this water tank. Within minutes the leaks were repaired and the tank was back in service.

SpeedAlloy requires no heat, no special tools and no special skills. It is completely safe to use and safe in use.

Originally developed for the US Department of Defense, SpeedAlloy is now available to solve your toughest leak repair problems on...

- pipes
- pans
- tanks
- ducts
- radiators
